

Emma Scott

Emma Scott is a local of and currently resides in Los Angeles, California. Growing up, she was a dancer and loved to sing and perform. In college she began working as a personal trainer, which is where she fell in love with helping her clients transform their health and lives.

She has been a practicing student of yoga for 15 years, and in 2021 answered the call to deepen her own practice, and enroll in Teacher Training at Yoga Noho Center. She now holds her YTT 200hr certification with Yoga Alliance, and Yin Certification.

Emma is extremely passionate about yoga and the profound healing she has experienced through this practice. Her goal as a teacher is to help guide & support others through their own journeys.

She believes that yoga, breathwork, meditation, and other somatic practices are powerful tools in deepening the connection of mind, body, and soul. Her passion for music is put into curated playlists designed to weave a deeper connection and inner awareness in each class.

She is excited to teach at Yoga Noho and be a part of this beautiful community.
